Matrimony Swells and Perpetu-Pension Commissioner Evans sat at his desk he other day, writes a correspondent of the Pension Commissioner Evans sat at his desk the other day, writes a correspondent of the Globe-Democrat, figuring on pensions as they concern generations yet unborn. The Declaration of Independence is 121 years old. The country is still discharging its debt of gratitude in the material form of pensions toward these who "fit" for it. Of course there are no surviving soldiers of the revolution. There are, however, surviving widows. The commissioner was speculating on what that fact has to do with the future of the present pension list. He has now upon his roll of monthly recipients 983,628 names. Before the end of the current year the grand army of pensioners will pass the 1,000,000 mark. It is a fair deduction that ninety years here. end of the current year the grand army of pensioners will pass the 1,000,000 mark. It is a fair deduction that ninety years hence the government of the United States will still be paying pensions for the civil war of 1861-65. The army of George Washington was a squad compared to the 2,000,000 and more enrolled in the north to crush secession. It suffered privations calculated to sap vitality. Forge are still drawing pensions. Unless the twentieth century women differ much from the nineteenth century women there will be a roll of honor in the year 1987 of quite respectable proportions. Pensions conduce to matrimony. A fixed income which can be transmitted after death as an extent has be received.

mitted after death as an estate has its bearing mitted after death as an estate has its bearing on the question of marriage.

"Suppose," suggested the commissioner, with his sheet of figures before him, "four-teen years to be the lowest limit of age for a soldier in the revolution of 1776. A soldier of that age would have been 38 years old in 1800. Now the youngest of our revolutionary widows on the pension list is 83. She was born in 1814. At the date of her birth the born in 1814. At the date of her birth the youngest of the revolutionary soldiers was 52.

If he married this woman when she was 18 he was 70. There you have the age conditions of matrimony not at all unreasonable or un-

Reasoning from what has proven true garding pensioners, the commissioner has no doubt that during several years to come girl bables will be born to the destiny of becoming the widows of the veterans of 1865 and of drawing pensions. If there are ten revolu-tionary widows on the roll now there may be 1,000 civil war widows in 1986. This is possible without taking into account the fact that the world is learning how to live longer. The ranks of the old soldlers wild-ows are not. Nearly one-fourth of the 982,-628 names now on the roll are widows. To be exact, the widows at present receiving pensions number 228,522. The proportion is increasing steadily. Soon one-third of the pensions will go to widows. A few years later the widows will outnumber the veterans. The time will come when the widows will exceed the old soldiers in such numerical relation as they do for the war of 1812. There are seven survivors of 1812 on the roll and there are 2.810 pensioned widows of roll and there are 2,810 pensioned widows of that war. The Indian wars were fought from 1832 to 1842, from fifty-five to sixtyfive years ago. The pensioned veterans of those Indian wars number 2,373 and the wid-ows 4,288. The Mexican war widows do not quite equal the veterans. They number 8,072, while the male peneloners of that war, fought fifty years ago, are 10,922.
Of union soldiers who participated in the civil war the number now pensioned is 741 -Unless additional laws are passed this number of civil war veterans will not grow much. The deaths are about 35,000 a year. The new applicants admitted to the foll, with the greatest diligence the Pension bureau can bestow, will not long maintain the present strength of pensioned veterans. But the widows will grow in numbers for many years to come.

CONDITION OF NEW YORK BANKS.

Fire Record of a Day.

Immense Increase in Loans Marks the Business Uphenval. NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—The Financier says this week: "As predicted in our last week's ssue there are considerable changes in the bank statement this week, bearing out the fact of continued business improvement. Loans increased $4,739,500 and deposits $4,733,-400, while the excess in reserve shows a decrease of $5.402,600. Currency shipments decrease of $5.492.609. Currency saipments to the interior were between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000 and the statement reflects this in a decrease of legal tenders to the amount of $4,008,000, while specie is $204,700 lower. It is probable that hext week will see a much larger demand for currency from the interior banks.

Kansas Corn Crop. Manchester Textile Fabries.

TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 5.—An official extimate of the corn crop of Kaness was issued today by the State Itoard of Agriculture in the form of a compilation of estimates by farmers throughout the state. The average yield is placed at twenty bushels per acre and the total crop 15.677.239 bushels, as against 221.00.000 bushels last year and 201.000.000 in 1855. The dry, hot whids of the last week have caused serious damage to the crop, the average condition during the week falling from 60 per cent to 55 per cent. The reports as a whole indicate that the crop is poor not only as to yield but as to weight and quality. Though the crop is disappointing it is a noteworthy fact that the state has raised but seven bigger corn crops. This is accounted for by the fact that the acreage, which is $2.25.000, is the greatest in the history of the state.

Wool Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5—Business was quiet this week in the wool trade. There was some inquiry for wool, but holders refused to sell. There was some inquiry for American account.
